THE SYSTEM OF PACIFIC RAILWAYS. WASHINGTON, April 1 .- General Chalmers, of Mississippi, to-day under instructions from the Committee on Pacific Rail-ways, submitted to the House a substitute men oppose the bill on the ground that as for the bill introduced by him in April, ther sell their spirits right away, and have 1879, to complete the system of Pacific railroads, together with an elaborate report upon the entire subject, both of which vere ordered to be printed and recom-

The bill entitled "An act to complete the Pacific railway system and for other purposes" proposes a radical departure from all former methods of railroad legislation, and aims to complete the roads men-tioned, and aid other projects of public imthe people or involving the Government by the endorsement of railroad bonds. It pro poses to restore to the Government 500,000 acres of public lands, heretofore that any change will be made in the pilot granted to railroad corporotions, and from their sale, at an average price of $2 per acre, to realize $213,000.000; this to be a public improvement fund from which loans are to be made to railroads upon certain prescribed conditions, the Government securing itself by first-mortgage bonds of railroads availing themselves of the provibill not to interfere with the homestead entry, and at the same time to deal with justice and equity with those corporations who

Mr. Vance introduced a bill for the cree-tion of a public building at Greensboro', N. The bill authorizing the Secretary of War to acquire for the United States the title to the site of Fort Houston, Texas, was Mr. Cockrell introduced a bill to establish a semi-monthly steamship mail service be-tween the States of the Mississippi Vailey and Brazil, and asked its reference to the Committee on Post-Offices and Post-Roads.

Messrs, Conkling and Hereford claimed that it was substantially the same bill as that introduced by Mr. Cockrell yesterday, which had been referred to the Committee on Commerce against Mr. Cockrell's wish. They objected to two different committees considering the same subject.

Mr. Cockrell said the bills were not iden

After more discussion, Mr. Ingalts objected to the se ond reading of the bill. It therefore went over until to-morrow.

Mr. Teller announced that the minority of the Wallace committee intended to make a minority report on political assessments. The bill granting a pension to Jesse Phaand opposed by Mr. Withers, chairman of the Pensions Committee, because the pension laws do not cover persons outside of the military and naval service.

Pending the debate the morning hour expired, and the Senate resumed the consideration of the immediate-deficiency bill, the question being on its final passage.

Mr. Edmunds opposed the bill on the ground that the clause relating to the ap-pointment of marshals was practically the same as the measure proposed by the majurity during the extra session. Deputy marshals being executive officers, could not be appointed by the courts without interference between two separate departments of the Government. He objected to the courts recognizing political parties and choosing partisans for deputies. He regarded this as one of the many Democratic attempts to repeal or nullify all legislation of the past nineteen years intended to secure the rights of the people.

The bill was then passed by a party vote.

Mr. Hazleton, of Wisconsin, objected to the resolution. The committee had sought a depression of labor and found nothing but prosperity. The whole thing was played out, and was not worth the cost of printing. Mr. Singleton was far from agreeing with the gentleman, and thought the report interesting and worth printing.

The resolution was adopted. The House considered the bill amending the census act, and after striking out the provision doing away with inquiries as to naturalization and the ownership of public debt, the bill was passed.

The House then went into Committee of Whole on the star-roule deficiency bill. Mr. Upson, of Texas, concluded his speech, begun yesterday, in favor of the maintenance of the present efficiency of the star service.

A VICTORY FOR THE LIBERALS.

LONDON, April 1 .- The Times, in a leading ditorial on the results of the polling yesterday, says : "The Conservatives must admit a very grave discouragement. The balance of gains and losses is, on a whole, decidedly that if the tide of success flows as strongly as it did yesterday in favor of the opposition the whole ministerial majority of 1874 will have melted away. This is more ominous for the ministry because it is acknowledged that by the loss of several seats in Scotland and Ireland certainly a dozen, and perhaps a score, is inevitable." Westminster, Right Hon. P. W. A. STROTHER: DEAR SIR,—

Some time since I commenced the use of your DENTALINE, for cleaning the teeth, and have found it of incalculable benefit for cleaning the teeth, hardening the gums, and imparting health to the mouth. My gums were extremely sensitive, and bled quite freely when using the brush, which has been entirely relieved by the use of Dentaline.

Yours truly,

For sale by all druggists.
